SICKNESS BOARD'S TOPIC BEGINS FIGHT IN THE COURT

School Trustees Consider Health Situation and Elect Officers for 1908.

Considerable of the session of the board of education last night was taken up with matters pertaining to the local health situation which in some parts of the city has become a serious problem. Superintendent William Allison presented a tabulated statement showing the exact number of pupils out of each school on account of contagious diseases. The total number is 208. Typhoid fever, smallpox, measles and mumps are the prevailing diseases. There is also quite a number of cases of chicken pox.

The greatest number out of any one building is at the Pingree school, where forty-three children are prevented from attending. This building is located in the southern part of the town. In the same building is the South Washington school, with forty-two out. Smallpox, chicken pox and measles are the diseases that seem to thrive in this part of the city. The Mount Fort school, in the northern part of the city, thirty-seven children were kept out of school on account of a number of typhoid fever cases. The attendance at the Dec school is affected by an epidemic of measles, many children being out on this account. The health at the Quincy school, on the bench, is reported to be the best of any in the city, but one pupil being absent, and this on account of the measles.

Superintendent Allison reported to the board in connection with the typhoid fever cases that as yet there had not been a case of this disease reported in a family where city water was used. He also stated that teachers were using every precaution to prevent contagious diseases from spreading, and that outside of the districts named the attendance being larger than at this time last year. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing two years: President, Dr. R. S. Joyce; vice president, H. W. Williams; clerk, Miss Ivy Williams; treasurer, James S. Burton.

FOR GOOD ROADS IN UTAH.

State Association Is Formed and County Organizations to Follow.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Utah Good Roads association was held at the Weber club last evening. The organization was completed, officers were elected and steps taken looking toward the advancement of the cause for which the association was formed were taken. Joseph S. Peery, who started the movement, was chosen president; A. P. Bigelow, vice president; L. L. Reynolds, secretary; R. W. Hoag, treasurer. These, with County Commissioners O. E. Ogden, Judge J. A. Howell and Mayor A. L. Brewer, form the directorate. Articles of incorporation were formally adopted and a resolution was passed favoring the Brownlow good roads bill now before congress. Plans for extending the scope of the association were discussed at length. This followed the reading of a communication from Davis County, stating that a movement has been started there to raise funds for building the part of a state road that would extend across that county. In this connection a committee consisting of H. J. Craven, J. A. Howell, W. G. Wilson and F. J. Kiesel was appointed. Davis, Salt Lake and Box Elder counties will be taken up in the order named and organized as rapidly as possible. It is expected that this will enable the association to demand a good roads plank in each party's platform at the next election.

Bamberger Road Asks for Right of Way Into Ogden Over Harriman Tracks.

As predicted in these columns on Wednesday, the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company filed an action in the district court yesterday against the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Oregon Short Line and Ogden Union Depot company in which it seeks to have condemned for its use a right of way over the tracks of the defendants near Thirty-second street, west of Pacific avenue. The complaint sets forth that the track of the plaintiff company's road is laid to within less than three miles of Ogden, and that the grading has been completed to the west side of the defendants' track and that further progress cannot be made toward the Ogden terminal until the right of way is secured. It is further alleged that the Bamberger people have tried to acquire the right of way, but that they are unable to agree or contract with the defendants. During the early part of the week the Harriman people placed two additional tracks at this point, both of which were laid on a grade about two feet below the original grade. This, it is claimed, was done with a view of preventing the Bamberger company from crossing their tracks. As a further indication that they propose to fight the Salt Lake & Ogden Railroad company a watchman was stationed at the place day and night to prevent the Bamberger concern from stealing a march on them.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Killing of Theodore Friese Being More Fully Investigated.

Word was received from Sheriff Sebring at Hobart City yesterday to the effect that John Herbert and Frank North will be charged with murder in the first degree for the killing of Theodore Friese of this city at this place. On the head and neck of Herbert was the first man arrested for the crime, but was exonerated by the coroner's jury. Subsequently he was arrested, and on Thursday Frank North, who was at the road house which Friese conducted the night of the tragedy, was also arrested for complicity in the crime. Friese is supposed to have been stabbed as well as shot. On the head and neck of the body wounds were found when the autopsy was made here a week ago, which indicated that death had followed his receiving the knife wounds.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

James B. Alvord, Who Came to Utah in 1849, Expires.

James B. Alvord, a pioneer resident of West Weber, died at his home in that place late Thursday night from general debility, aged 77 years. He is survived by a widow, five children, eleven grandchildren and two brothers. Mr. Alvord was born in Waterford, Mich., Dec. 4, 1830, and came to Utah in 1849, crossing the plains with an ox-team. He has resided in this county since that time. Since coming to Utah he has made two additional trips across the plains with handcart brigades, bringing immigrants to this state. At the time of his death he was a member of the high priests quorum of the Weber stake. The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the West Weber meeting house. Burial will be in the West Weber cemetery.

SMITH AND LANG ARRESTED

Police Take in Men Who Said They Were Robbed.

George B. Smith and T. Lang, the two men who were, according to their own statements, held up in the Ogden House early Thursday morning, were yesterday placed under arrest by the police after being detained at headquarters since the affair. Smith is the proprietor of the place and Lang was a roustabout. It was Smith who gave the story to the police and it was Lang who used Lang as a tool. The ability of Smith to so minutely describe the occurrence first aroused suspicion. He of the clothing worn by a description of highwaymen, their height and many other details considered almost impossible under a situation such as he outlined. When the jewelry, consisting of some rings and a scarf pin, which Smith said were taken from him by the robbers, were found in the yard of the hotel, the suspicion grew that did not sound reasonable and it was thought best to detain Smith and Lang until the case could be investigated thoroughly.

Yesterday the police learned that shortly before 2 o'clock Thursday morning Smith ordered several loaders from the hotel office, which was something that had not been done before in weeks. Then to get his brother and a friend out of the way he sent them across to a restaurant on the opposite side of the street. This left no one but himself and Lang in the place when the robbers are supposed to have entered. So far Smith and Lang adhere to their story as told prior to their arrest. The sweating process has been applied without effect. In addition to Smith's jewelry, $77 belonging to a guest disappeared during the holdup.

Mining Company Formed.

Articles of incorporation of the Columbia Gold Mines company were filed with the county clerk yesterday. The company is capitalized at $25,000, divided into twenty-five-cent shares. M. S. Browning, J. M. Browning, Adam Patterson, T. C. Foley, each have 10,000 shares; J. A. Foley, G. P. Busch, each 10,000, and J. Busch as agent 2,000 shares. Mr. Busch is the owner of five claims in the Gold Circle mining district in Elko county, Nevada, and these have been absorbed by the new company. The officers are: President, Adam Patterson; vice president, J. A. Foley; secretary, George P. Busch; treasurer, M. S. Browning. These, with C. Foley, compose the board of directors.

May Build New Bridge.

Following the decision of District Judge Howell in restraining the city from closing the old channel of the Ogden river near the mouth of Ogden canyon, it is expected that at Monday night's session of the council a resolution will be introduced providing for the building of a new bridge across the channel. This bridge was washed out a year ago, and during last summer the summer the city was complaining that on account of the circuitous route which the people were forced to travel to reach their homes, the city had been forced to close the old channel by filling in and placing a small culvert to permit the passage of some water. The court's decision put an end to this plan.

The case will be called for trial before Judge Lewis in Salt Lake within a short time.
